

Employment support for people with convictions

Re-engaging with the community and finding employment with a criminal conviction can be tough, but it is not impossible.

We are looking for enthusiastic, hardworking and reliable candidates to enrol in our programme of employability support.

Our partnership with Jobcentre Plus allows us to offer support to people with criminal convictions. This support can help you secure employment.

We work with people regardless of their conviction. If you feel like your criminal conviction is holding you back and preventing you from gaining employment, please ask your work coach about Offploy.

There are a limited number of places available, so please don't hesitate to declare your interest.

Ask your work coach about Offploy and our employment opportunities.
